Haas Group International of West Chester was selected as the 2011 Manufacturing Services Supplier of the Year by Rockwell Collins.

The award is an acknowledgement of significant contributions made during the year by suppliers to the aviation electronics systems producer.

Haas Group provides chemical management services for all Rockwell Collins North American sites.

In 2010, Haas led the realignment of all the San Jose site chemicals, insuring that during the manufacturing transition Rockwell Collins did not experience any supply chain disruptions.

Further, it offset supply risk for a large tier-two supplier moving its manufacturing to China and collaborated with Rockwell Collins to ensure compliance with Europe's new chemical reporting requirements.

n DOER: East Goshen entrepreneur Barbara Doran is spotlighted as this week's Martha Stewart's "Doer of the Week" for her invention of KitchenKuffs, a cuff with elastic that helps keep the wearer's sleeves out of dishwater or other messy chores.

Stewart's "Dreamers into Doers" website profiles women who have turned their dreams into careers.

"This dreamer took an everyday problem in her life, thought of a solution, created a business around the idea, and voila! Today Barbara is the proud creator of KitchenKuffs, a smart invention that makes daily housework a little more enjoyable," the website ()

Stocks soar--but some wealthy citizens are preparing for the "End of America." Here's why...

During the previous two years, CertainTeed was the agency's Energy Star Partner of the Year.

CertainTeed is the first and only fiberglass insulation manufacturer whose contri butions have been recognized through the program, the company said.

The award recognizes consistent efforts to use energy efficiently in facility operations and to integrate superior energy management into overall organizational strategy.

Award winners are selected from organizations that participate in the Energy Star program.

n DISTRIBUTION: Merck and Johnson & Johnson and its subsidiary Centocor Ortho Biotech Inc. on Friday said the companies have reached agreement to amend the distribution rights to Remicade and Simponi.

The drugs treat chronic inflammatory diseases such as rheumatoid arthritis.

The agreement concludes the arbitration proceeding Johnson & Johnson initiated in May 2009, requesting a ruling related to the distribution agreement following the announcement of the proposed merger between Merck and Schering-Plough.

Under the terms of the amended distribution agreement, Merck's subsidiary, Schering-Plough of Ireland, will relinquish exclusive marketing rights for Remicade and Simponi to Johnson & Johnson's Janssen pharmaceutical companies in certain territories as of July 1.
